On the 1st August, entrepreneur Kevin Joffe, the business man credited with introducing Migun in the region. "It has received great praise from medical practitioners around the world and is sure to have an impact on alternative medicine in this country."

Found in more than 33 countries and lauded by medical associations from around the world, the Migun Thermal Massage bed has finally made its way to South Africa with the opening of the Migun Thermal Massage Demo Centre located at 63A Somerset Road, Green Point in Cape Town. A grand opening celebration was held on 7th August and featured free demonstrations and an informational lecture by Theo Calligeris, physiotherapist at the Sports Science Institute and respected physiotherapist to South African athletes.

"I'm very excited to bring this exciting new product to the South African market," said Kevin Joffe, the businessman credited with introducing Migun in the region. "It has received great praise from medical practitioners around the world and is sure to have an impact on alternative medicine in this country."

The Migun bed is unique because it combines Eastern & Western medical techniques and technology. Using acupressure, acupuncture, heat-therapy, chiropractics and massage Migun, which means "beautiful health" in Korean, is the only product that combines all of these techniques in one environment to promote health, relaxation and balance. With regular use, Migun has been found to improve symptoms of arthritis, diabetes, migraines hypertension, chronic back pain and sleep issues. The beds are approved by the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA) for use as a medical instrument. In addition they are approved by the American Chiropractic Association (ACA), one of the largest professional associations in the world representing chiropractors and are used by many individuals and organizations including famous actor Matt Damon, former all time great golfer Arnold Palmer, the New York Mets and the Miami City Ballet.

"Migun is a thermo mechanical massage bed like no other since it does more than just massage. Spinal alignment is one of many other applications from which one can benefit using Migun," said Calligeris, who has used the beds on well-known clients. "The beds improve health through innovative technology and it's great that they will now be available to South Africans."

To enquire about prices and to book, you can find the Migun Thermal Massage Demo Centre at 63a Somerset Rd, Green Point, or phone: 021 4216900.

Online Ed's Note: Unfortunately, I was unable to attend the launch of these fantastic, life-changing beds, but I will make sure I try it out and will report back!
