One in a million!

Lina Zodwa had a wonderful surprise when she flew recently – she was the one millionth Guest to fly Mango. Lina, from Secunda, won Mango tickets and a travel bag. But the trip was special in more ways than one! Frans Le Roux, who was travelling with Lina, explains below ...

Dear Mango,

I would like to share with you the following to indicate that achieving one million passengers travelling with Mango was more special than you might have thought.

The person who turned out to be the one millionth, Ms Lina Zodwa, has worked as a domestic worker for my wife's parents for 26 years. While she was still a child, my wife, Karina, promised Ms Zodwa that she would take her to the sea when she grew up, as Lina had never seen the sea in her life.

"Beloftes maak skuld", as the Afrikaans saying goes, and after we got married in December last year, my wife and I made plans to visit Karina's grandmother in St Helena Bay and decided to take Lina with us. And so, we booked our tickets on Mango.

This was therefore not only Lina's first visit to the sea, but also the first time she flew, and being the one millionth passenger and winning the prizes made it just so much more special for her! She really did feel on top of the world and can't stop speaking about the experience. Thank you for making her flight extra-special with the extra attention she received on the plane.

Thank you again, and I trust that you will be reaching your next million very soon.

Kind regards,
Frans le Roux

Try this ...

For a massage with a difference – and a reasonable price – try Migun, a new thermal massage bed launched in South Africa. Heated jade massage heads roll underneath the length of the body, using a combination of acupressure, acupuncture, heat therapy, chiropractics and massage. With regular use, Migun is said to soothe symptoms of arthritis, diabetes, migraines, hypertension, chronic back pain and irregular sleeping patterns.

At just R50 for a 35-minute session, we absolutely love the price. Monthly options are also available at The Migun Centre (1 Villa Shamrock, 63A Somerset Road, Green Point. Tel 021 421 7912 or www.migun.co.za).

Special offer: Make a booking at the Migun Demo Centre, up until 15 November, mention Mango Juice, and you'll get your first Migun session free!

AGENT TRAVEL

Booking a ticket on Mango has become even easier – anyone can now book through travel agencies throughout South Africa. This is in addition to the booking methods already in place – at www.flymango.com, call centres (0861 1MANGO) and airport kiosks. Watch this space for announcements about more innovative places to buy your Mango ticket.

The Coastal Guide

It's the perfect holiday companion – a simple but comprehensive guide to plants and animals most commonly seen along South Africa's spectacular 3 000km coastline.

The Coastal Guide of South Africa includes species of mammals, reptiles, fish, birds, invertebrates and plants, as well as marine and fishing regulations. Uncomplicated descriptions and clear colour drawings make this a must.

Mango Juice and Jacana Media have five copies of The Coastal Guide (R165) to give away. To enter, email your details, including your postal address and contact phone number to projects@jacana.co.za before 31 October, with "Mango Juice Giveaway" in the subject line.
